

NITK, KIOCL, CISF take part in cleanliness drive in city

ENS @Mangaluru

THE National Institute of Technology Karnataka (NITK) Surathkal, organised a cleanliness drive as part of 'Ek Tareek, Ek Ghanta, Ek Saath' call given by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Sunday.

NITK director Prof B Ravi, Mangaluru City Corporation corporator Shobha Rajesh, NITK registrar, joint registrar, dean ACR, teaching and non-teaching staff along with NITK students took part in the drive. They cleaned the NITK campus and the surrounding areas within Surathkal city. This concerted effort resulted in significant environmental enhancement and served to instil a heightened sense of civic responsibility among all participants. The Swachhata pledge was also taken by the NITK community.

A cleanliness drive was organised by the CISF Unit ASG Mangalore in collaboration with the panchayat of Bajpe in which 100 CISF personnel, their families, NSS students from the Polytechnic College

NITK staff and students take a Swachhata pledge during the cleanliness drive

Sundankatta, and residents of Bajpe took part.

They cleaned the Bajpe bus stand, vegetables markets, and the nearby area of Adyapadi School.

In the cleanliness drive organised by KIOCL, the officers, employees, CISF personnel, family members, and others took part. They cleaned Kulur Bridge, Mangala circle and the entrance of Thanerbhavi road. The thick bushes in the area which were obstructing the movement of vehicles were cleared.

Chairman-cum-MD T Saminathan, director (Production & Projects) G V Kiran, Chief General Manager (Production) P Palani, Asst Commandant Naresh Kumar Sangwan and others were present.
